The content of this website should be used as a general guide only.

Precautions have been taken to ensure the information is accurate, but the Commonwealth does not guarantee, and accepts no legal liability whatsoever arising from or connected to, the accuracy, reliability, currency or completeness of any material contained on these sites or on any linked site.

These sites are not a substitute for independent professional advice and visitors should obtain any appropriate professional advice relevant to their particular circumstances.

In many areas of Indigenous Australia, it is considered offensive to publish photographs or names of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who have recently died. Visitors are warned that these sites may inadvertently contain such names.

Links to external websites

We link to external sites for your convenience. We are selective about which external sites we link to, but we don't endorse external sites including any material at those sites, or any related organisations, product or service. When following links to other websites, we encourage you to examine the copyright, privacy and disclaimer notices on those websites.

Website security

We use a range of security controls to protect our website from unauthorised access.

However, users should be aware that the World Wide Web is an insecure public network that gives rise to a potential risk that a user's transactions are being watched, captured or changed by third parties. Also know that files a user downloads may have computer viruses, disabling codes, worms or other devices or defects.

The Commonwealth Government accepts no liability for any interference or damage to a user's computer system, software or data occurring in connection with or relating to this website or its use. Users are encouraged to take appropriate and adequate precautions to ensure that whatever is selected from this site is free of viruses or other contamination that may interfere with or damage the user's computer system, software or data. Where connection to system or website outside our control compromises our website, we will sever links to that website or system.

Increasing your safety online

To protect your computer you should:

- install and activate security software on your computer
- ensure your security software includes anti-virus, anti-spyware, firewall and anti-spam filter
- run regular scans of your computer for viruses
- remember to update your security software to ensure you are always running the current version.

Other steps you should take to help protect your computer include:

- check your internet browser's security settings for ways to make your browsing more secure
- do not open email attachments if you do not know the sender
- only download files from reputable internet sites
- be wary when exchanging files with colleagues or friends
- never click on hyperlinks in emails received from unknown sources
- never share your passwords with anyone
- never send your passwords via email
- make your passwords as strong as possible.
